

te Maroro Restaurant

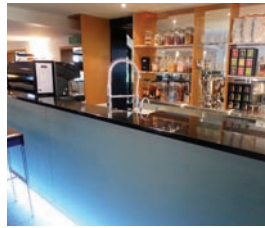

Te Maroro Restaurant serves breakfast, lunch, and dinner daily and is located beside the hotel lobby. We provide an excellent range of seasonal dishes that reflect a fusion of local and international cuisine.

Te Maroro is the Maori word for "flying fish" that was chosen to complement the fish sculptures on display in the restaurant by New Zealand artist, Rex Homan.

Indaba is an African word that means a gathering of people and the Lounge bar is exactly the place for this to occur. Comfortable lounge seating overlooking a green lawn or the pool area is an invitation to relax with a drink and something from the snack menu. Guests can view examples of art from the Ndebele Tribe of South Africa who use bright colours, intricate beadwork, and geometric patterns to adorn themselves and their homes.

Coffee Bar is located between the Restaurant and our Lounge bar. For coffee lovers, why not try one of our Jet Park signature coffees - a single shot of espresso with white chocolate. We have a full range of coffees, specialty coffees and teas, including Chai.

Room Service is available for an excellent range of menu items, including desserts. Please see our dedicated Room Service menu. Like a glass of wine with your menu? Certainly, we can offer you beverages by the glass.

If you would like breakfast room service please fill out the order form hanging on your door and leave it on the outside doorknob before 0100 for collection by the porter. Please note all room service orders attract a $3.00 delivery surcharge.
